Hi Gordon,

I have talked to the accountants about the fund 723 language issue. The issue stems from the language in an old appropriation that has since been repealed. The State Controller's Office has suggested that the below change would free up the funds to be used under 1q. Please let me know if you have any concerns. CANPB's budget is due this coming Monday, so if you have the draft before then, would you please send it to Mary Anne to include in her budget submission. Otherwise, would you please send it to me.

Thanks for your help,

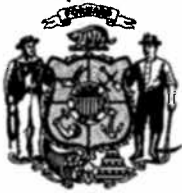

Katie

Regarding the transfer of the remaining balance in the unassigned appropriations in fund 723 to appropriation 20.433(1)(q), Steve Censky suggested something like the following:

"The unobligated fund balances remaining in the Children's Trust Fund should be transferred to appropriation 20.433(1)(q)."

Based on my review of the general ledger balances at the end of FY12 this amount would be $45,149.84.

Under current law, from the Children's Trust Fund (CTF) there is appropriated to the Child Abuse and Neglect Prevention Board (CANPB) all moneys received as contributions, grants, gifts, and bequests for the CTF to carry out the purposes for which made and received. Under prior law, there was also an appropriation from the CTF to the CANPB of a sum certain in each fiscal year for the actual and necessary operating costs of the CANPB. This bill includes in the current appropriation from the CTF to the CANPB the unencumbered balance of the moneys that were lapsed to the CTF by the repeal of the appropriation from the CTF to the CANPB under prior law.

X I am assuming that the "old appropriation that has since been repealed" referenced in the drafting instructions is s. 20.433 (1) (r), 1999 stats., which was repealed in the 2001 budget. At the time, the Children's Trust Fund (CTF) consisted not only of contributions, gifts, grants, and bequests, but also of license plate fees and the interest on those fees. The principal of the license plate fees was transferred to the Celebrate Children Foundation's fund under 2003 Act 319, section 64 (1), so I am assuming that the money stuck in the CTF consists of interest on the license plate fees. If so, this draft is necessary because currently s. 20.433 (1) (q) appropriates only contributions, gifts, grants, and bequests to the CTF and not interest on license plate fees that was appropriated under s. 20.433 (1) (r), 1999 stats., and then lapsed back to the CTF by the repeal of that appropriation.

X On the other hand, if the moneys lapsed back to the Children's Trust Fund (CTF) by the repeal of s. 20.433 (1) (r), 1999 stats., consists only of "contributions, gifts, grants, and bequests," then it is not necessary to amend s. 20.433 (1) (q) because s. 20.433 (1) (q) already is broad enough to include those moneys.

Yes, because it would be a one-time transfer, it would go in a Nonstat provision, something like, "On the effective date of this subsection, the secretary of administration shall transfer the unencumbered balance in the children's trust fund to the appropriation account under s. 20.433 (1) (q)."

The reason I think it needs to be nonstat is that the current language of 1q is all moneys received from the children's trust fund (see below). This is correct and allows them to spend up to the level set by expenditure authority, or to request an increase to expenditure authority that they can support. Thus, effectively any amount that comes into the children's trust fund can be spent out of 1q.

The problem is that because of the old language and the error in executing that language, there is a sum of money (about $45,000) sitting in the fund balance that the accountants do not think can legally be moved into 1q without statutory direction to do so. Therefore, I think nonstatutory language that takes the balance that is in the appropriation, but that cannot be included in 1q because it was involved in this error, and specifically states that it can be moved to 1q would solve the problem.

I do not think any change is needed to the actual statutes, because aside from the historical error, it is allowing the funds to move from the children's trust fund to 1q in an appropriate manner.

(q) Children's trust fund; gifts and grants. From the children's trust fund, all moneys received as contributions, grants, gifts, and bequests for that trust fund under s. 48.982 (2) (d) or (2e) (a) 3., to carry out the purposes for which made and received under s. 48.982 (2m).

I think it will be a nonstat provision. It is one time to correct the error that we discussed below. The current language structure is working fine. This is a separate issue, and is solely to correct a historical error that happened under statutes that no longer exist.

Is this supposed to be a one-time event or ongoing? That is, if I donate $10 to the CTF a week after the budget takes effect, would that money automatically be appropriated under (1) (q)? If so, it sounds like you are really looking for a sum sufficient appropriation, i.e., any money that goes into the fund is automatically appropriated.

If not, then we need some language to pin it down in time so that it is not read as ongoing.

Yes, the entire balance at this time would be appropriated to 1q.

CTF will not cease to exist. It will remain as a SEG gifts and grants type fund, and continue to receive gifts that are appropriated to CTF.

So, in other words and to make a long story short, you want the entire balance of the CTF appropriated to (1) (q). That is how I interpret the meaning of "the unobligated fund balances remaining in the CTF"

So then will the CTF cease to exist once those moneys are appropriated and spent?

I talked to Steve and this language will not result in the transfer of any amount to 1(q). Appropriation 1(r) was repealed and any unencumbered balance that may have remained in the appropriation would have lapsed or been transferred to the balance of the fund. Nothing remains in 1(r). We feel our suggested language will result in the transfer of the $45,149 that remains in the balance of the fund that is not currently available for spending in 1(q).

Subject: FW: Draft review: LRB -0064/P1 Topic: Expenditure authority for balance of repealed appropriation

Hi Gordon,

I am not sure if this will fix the problem. The issue is not exactly the unencumbered balances of 1r, but that under the old language 1q recognized revenues of the amounts collected less the amount appropriated for 1r. Instead of transfers being made out of 1q at the level appropriated or budgeted in 1r, they were equal to the amount actually spent. Thus more should have been transferred out 1q and into a 100 appropriation in the fund. This would have annually lapsed to the fund balance. A transfer of $235,000 was made out of 1q and into the 100 appropriation to correct this problem, but the State Controller's Office has opined that these funds are not accessible short of legislation to move them from the 100 appropriation into 1q where they can be spent to the level authorized by the expenditure authority. As I mentioned in my initial request, the State Controller's Office has recommended language along the lines of "The unobligated fund balances remaining in the Children's Trust Fund should be transferred to appropriation 20.433(1)(q)."

Here is the language from the 1999 statutes:

(q) Children's trust fund grants. From the children's trust fund, all moneys received as contributions, grants, gifts and bequests for that trust fund under s. 48.982 (2) (d) or (2e) (a), other than moneys received under s. 341.14 (6r) (b) 6., and all interest earned on moneys received under s. 341.14 (6r) (b) 6., less the amounts appropriated under par. (r), to carry out the purposes for which made and received under s. 48.982 (2m) (a).

(r) Children's trust fund; general program operations and statewide projects. From the children's trust fund, the amounts in the schedule for actual and necessary operating costs of the child abuse and neglect prevention board under s. 48.982 (3) and for statewide projects under s. 48.982 (5).

In light of this additional information, do you believe this draft will make those funds accessible?

Jim and Steve, please see the attached draft. Will this language will work?

Thanks,
Katie

Under current law, there is an appropriation from the Children's Trust Fund (CTF) to the Child Abuse and Neglect Prevention Board (CANPB) of all moneys received as contributions, grants, gifts, and bequests for the CTF to carry out the purposes for which those contributions, grants, gifts, and bequests were made and received. This bill transfers the unencumbered balance in the CTF to that appropriation and appropriates that balance for those purposes.
